

September 2021

Missoula College's associate degree in nursing is ranked No. 1 in Montana.

UM remembers Ulysses S. Doss, founder of its African-American Studies Program.

Missoula College announces one-year legal studies certificate.

Wildlife biology major Nicole Bealer spent her summer scaling the craggy mountains of western Wyoming to study bighorn sheep.

UM pharmacy student Shelby Brooks enjoyed her small-town internship in far-off Forsyth.

David Harmsworth, a cello performance major, was awarded a fellowship to the Aspen Music Festival and school.

Military veteran Jacob Horton, a senior majoring in cognitive neuroscience, volunteered to conduct campus COVID-19 checks through UM's Health & Medicine program.

New faculty member Jessica Liddell studies reproductive rights among Native women.

Missoula volunteers recently contributed over 1,125 hours of rehabilitation service work on UM's beloved M Trail.

UM sociology students help Montanans in need in their hometowns.

The University launches a free river shuttle for floaters.

Summer program offers high school students an early taste of college.

UM tackles climate change with a popular minor.

How animals adapt to climate change depends on what they build, according to UM research.

Missoula College now offers construction job-site safety certification program.

Program at UM encourages women to become politically active and take on leadership roles.

UM hosts Montana's first-ever cybersecurity camp for middle-school students.

The University opens two new spaces in the Missoula Public Library.

Montana Public Radio starts broadcasting acclaimed podcast of faculty member Justin Angle.