

May 2022

Beatrix Frissell, a UM cross-country runner from Polson, recently earned a highly prestigious Truman Scholarship.

UM's Baucus Institute hosted a climate panel that included John Kerry, the first U.S. special presidential envoy for climate. The Mansfield Center also recently featured Condoleezza Rice and Michael McFaul as part of its lecture series.

A report by UM's Bureau of Business and Economic Research found filming of the fourth season of the television series "Yellowstone" injected $70 million in spending to Montana.

Missoula College student Xavier Gonzales-Graybill overcame addiction and other challenges to become a successful "baking force of nature."

Doctoral student Sierra Paske plays a pivotal role in UM's famed Kyiyo Pow Wow.

The Alexander Blewett III School of Law jumped 31 spots in a national ranking.

Three Grizzlies earned awards or honorable mentions from the 2022 Graduate Research Fellowship Program, a top National Science Foundation program for STEM awards.

UM recently installed four electric vehicle charging stations on campus.

The University's public affairs graduate program improved its national ranking.

Four UM students were named Wyss Scholars for conservation leadership.

Students Cana Odegaard and Kolter Stevenson earned coveted Critical Language Scholarships for a study abroad program sponsored by the U.S. Department of State.

UM researcher Will Rice found that the online reservation systems used by national parks "creates a wicked problem of equity."

A group of graduate students at UM recently participated in an experience they say has fundamentally challenged the way they view American health care.

Mark Trahant, editor-at-large of Indian Country Today, presented the 2022 Dean Stone Lecture for the School of Journalism.

The University's Flathead Lake Biological Station joined a scientific team to track river health in real time.

Director Jen Euell has led a revitalization of UM's Student Advocacy Resource Center. "I think all of us at SARC are just committed to the idea that we do not fail people," she said.